Call for Submissions:
Pathways to Sustainable Development: Climate and Disaster Risk Finance and Insurance

Background:
The ‘Pathways to Sustainable Development’ policy magazine focuses on Climate and Disaster Risk Finance and Insurance in the Caribbean. The policy magazine aims to discuss the multiplicity of social issues faced and to address these issues critically to aid the most vulnerable groups like small farmers, fishermen and women etc. The magazine will focus on the impact of the climate change-related disasters and the approach to regional resilience and preparation for natural disasters, in the context of InsuResilience Global Partnership. The magazine will provide regional researchers with the opportunity to critique and examine the response to disasters at the individual, national and regional levels.

Guidelines for Abstract Submissions:

Themes:
1. Gender and Climate and Disaster Risk Finance and Insurance
2. Critical Examination of COAST (Parametric Insurance and Fisheries)
3. Civil Society Contributions to Climate Change and Response to Natural Disasters
4. How Climate and Disaster Risk Finance and Insurance benefits the Caribbean

Format:
Proposals for chapters must be presented in English, in the form of an abstract of maximum 250 words, including key terms. Proposals should include the personal data of the authors’ names and email addresses. Proposals should use the Times New Roman font, size 12 and 1.5 line spacing, with one-inch margins.

Requirements:
- Must be based on one of the four topics highlighted above.
- Include a concise statement of the research under investigation and its objectives. Define all concepts and abbreviations at first use.
- Describe methodology (either qualitative or quantitative).
- Do not submit multiple abstracts on overlapping facets of the same project unless each abstract has important, novel information and clearly stands on its own. Repetitive abstracts will be rejected.
- Abstracts that have been used previously for published work, but include updated information with significant new implications will be considered.
- Must be submitted as a Word Document (.doc or .docx format)

Entries must be submitted to the email address cpdcsubmissions@gmail.com. The articles will be reviewed, and researchers chosen will be contacted to further develop upon the abstract.
